Marshall Retirees Association offering university scholarship

Students who are direct descendants of a Marshall Center retiree or of a member of the NASA-MSFC Retirees Association can apply for a $1,000 scholarship at the University of Alabama in Huntsville for the upcoming fall academic year. Students also need to be enrolled full-time at UAH and majoring in engineering or the physical sciences. The award is based on academic merit, citizenship, leadership and a demonstrated interest in space-related engineering and science. For more information, call UAH Student Financial Services at 824-2755.
